Amazing New Zealand Birds 🦜

New Zealand is home to many unique birds. The kiwi is a flightless bird found only in New Zealand. It has a long beak and small wings. Many people think the kiwi is the most interesting bird in the world. The kea is a clever mountain parrot with green and orange feathers. Kea are known for being playful and curious. Some people believe kea are too cheeky and cause problems. The tūī has beautiful singing abilities and can make over 20 different sounds. Everyone should listen to a tūī sing at least once. New Zealand has over 200 native bird species. Protecting these birds is the most important job we have.
